CHANGED DAILY FOR C. H. GILMAN-MARCH 4, 1887.

WHAT WE MEAN

SALES! SATURDAY'S

First: In doing the business that we do, and carrying the stock that we do, stands to reason that each day leaves us with short lengths in Dress Goods, Muslins, or goods kept in this Department.

In Nottingham Laces or Lace Curtains there are bound to be short lengths, or an odd pair of Curtains.

In Fancy Goods, a pair or two of Ladies' or Misses' Hose is left over; short lengths in Edgings, or an odd lot of Buttons.

These odd lots, short lengths, with some other lines of goods that have not moved quite as fast as we think ought to, are marked down to a price that takes them away at once by those who are posted and the know-

In Men's Furnishing Goods, Boots and Shoes; a pair of Shoes here, and a few Shirts there, Socks or Neckwear are all placed out in lots, with a mere nothing price placed upon them. Two are most invariably pleased: We are pleased to get rid of them, in order to keep our stock clean; and the purchaser is pleased with his good hit in his bargain.

In Clothing, Men's and Boys' Hats, Misses' and Children's Hats, are all treated alike; where there is only a few of a kind, Saturday's prices makes them suffer. For the past year we have never failed to collect these lots together, mark them low, and let them

TO-MORROW (Saturday), our variety will be large. Come in, look around; you might see something that you would like. We shall issue a partial Price List of the goods on sale To-morrow; the print will be fine, as we wish you to read about as many Bargains as we possibly can crowd into our half-double column advertisement in this paper. It will pay you well to take time to read it, and it will pay you better to come and see it.

Yours respectfully,

C. H. GILMAN.

CONFERENCES OF TRANSCONTI-

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

Important Conferences of Transcontinental Railroad Managers. NEW YORK, March 3d .- One of the most mportant and largely attended conferences of transcontinental railroad managers ever held in this city was closed to-day. It was held in the Northern Pacific office, and lasted two days. The roads represented were the Central Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and Southern Pacific. They were represented by Presidents C. F. Adams, Robert Harris, C. P. Huntington, Charles F. Crocker, William B. Strong and Jay Gould, and Traffic Managers Kimball, Towne and Calloway. The Vice Presidents of some of the roads were also present, and counselors Gray, of the Northern Pacific, Sidney Dillon and Tweed The conference discussed questions, first, as to the requirements of the interstate commerce bili; and, second, how the trans-continental roads can get into harmony with the law, and meet the demands of public sentiment. The result of their deberations was that two tariffs for freight and passenger business should be pre-pared, one under the long haul clause, and the other under the short haul clause, as they are under-stood by the roads, these tariffs are to take effect April 5th, and are to be submitted to the Interstate Railroad Commissioners within a reasonable time after their appointment is announced.

A committee was also appointed to prepare, under advice of coansel, a memorial tary Fairchild. to the Interstate Commission setting forth the interpretation of the law as arrived at y the transcontinental railroads, and soliciting the approval of the tariffs, if their provisions shall meet the views of the mmissioners.

TURF NOTES.

Baldwin's Racers Out of the Suburban Handicap. New York, March 3d -The Turf, Field and Farm, in its issue to-day says: Advices have been received by Secretary Lawrence representative in the big handicap, these two having been the only ones entered by Baldwin. It also leaves Isaac Murphy open to an engagement for the event, should Baldwin's stable be at Sheepshead Prospect Park. Although all bookmakers have lists for the Suburban arranged and are ready for business, no transactions of moment have been made. Ben Ali's chances, should he start with Hamilton to pilot him, ought to be about as good as invibing in the race. anything in the race.

The sporting editor of the Mail and Express says: For the Brooklyn handicap, I hancy Hidalgo very much. The odds against him now are 30 to 1. There is every indication that he will be a starter. The distance and weight suit him, and of course Haggin would like to win. He is good on a dry or wet track. He is a horse of exceeding gameness and high quality, and if he should be got ready so early in the season he ought to be very hard to beat. As a weight carrier he has few superiors, and all turf-goers will admit his speed. There is no horse in the race that has at this time brighter chances for winding here.

ning honors. The Beil Telephone Suits.

Boston, March 31 .- The Bell Telephone ompany filed an important motion in the U. S. Circuit Court regarding the Govern-ment suits to break the patents. The company asks leave, in addition to filing a demurrer to the suit, to plead the facts that decisions have been already given in other suits which involved the same questions as those now raised. It represents to the Court that the questions which it desires to raise by such a plea are closely taken to those which would be raised by the demurrer, and that much time, expense and labor would be saved by presenting and arguing all at the same time. The motion then continues: "The bill refers to and purports to state the contents of certain written comnunications from the Commissioner of Pat ents to Elisha Gray, dated February 19, 1876, and February 26, 1876, but does not make copies of them. Part of the bill this respondent denies, and is advised that it should present copies thereof to the Court by plea, because the legal effect cannot be otherwise ascertained. It further represents that the voluminous records of the litigation are now before the Supreme Court on appeal, and held under advise-ment, and that it would be indecorous and ontrary to the usages of Courts of equity to re-try any questions pending before the Supreme Court." There will probably be an early hearing on the motion in the Cir Death of a California Pioneer. NEW YORK, March 3d .- Yates Ferguson, a merchant of this city and a '49 pioneer, died at his home, 52 West Twelfth street yesterday. Although he had been con-fined to the house during last week by a complication of diseases, his death was un-expected and was caused by heart disease. Mr. Ferguson was born in Westchester county, in June, 1823. He was in business there until 1849 when he went to Califorthere until 1849 when he went to Cantornia. There he settled in Greenwood, El Dorado county, and engaged in mining and mercantile pursuits. He returned to New York in 1853, and established an export trade in California wines and liquors. He trade in California wines and liquors. He lake carried on some business in California.

A Strike of Shoemakers Threatened. NEW YORK, March 3d .- There is at presnt great danger-of a general strike among the shoemakers of this city. The leaders of the organization to which these men belong derived considerable encouragement from the result of the last strike, and are consequently very arrogant in their dealings with the manufacturers. District Assembly No. 91 has devised plans for mak-ing new demands upon all shoe manufact-urers for a general increase of wages, at the same time cutting down the number of nours of work. The manufacturers say if the demands of the men are insisted upon the result will be that shoe manuicturing will be driven from the city, and the business ruined. The Kittson Marriage Illegal, brought by Minnie Clark, who calls her-self Mrs. Mary Kittson, against her hus-band, Hercules Kittson, the young son of Commodore Kittson, for legal separation, on the ground of his abandonment, to-day decided that, although there had been the ceremony of marriage, yet at the time defendant was incapable of entering into any such contract because of his being intoxicated. The jury also found that plaintiff and defendant have not cohabited as husband and wife, and that she is a person of

We are, respectfully, the Committee." The company are endeavoring to discover the distributors, with a view of prosecuting them for conspiracy.

Will Remain in the Executive Office. WASHINGTON, March 3d.—The President has decided not to go to the Capitol to-morrow for the purpose of acting on the measures which may be passed by Congress during the last hours of the session. He advised the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of his decision in this respect early last evening, and added that the Executive office would remain open all night, and up to the very hour of adjourn ment-at noon to-morrow-tor the consid eration of all matters requiring Executive action. In accordance with this plan, the President and most of the members of his Cabinet will remain on duty at the White House nearly all night, for the consideration of the large number of important bills which passed the Senate yesterday. Bills Approved by the President. WASHINGTON, March 3d.-The President to-day approved the Act to authorize the President of the United States to protect and defend the rights of American fishing vessels, American fishermen, trading and other vessels in the British dominions of North America; the Indian appropriation bills; an Act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with the colleges established under Act of July. The troops sent by the Government to over-1862; an Act to provide for the location and erection of a branch home for disabled vol-unteer soldiers west of the Rocky Mountains; an 'Act relating to contested elec-tions; an Act granting the right of way through Indian Territory to the Chicago, Kansas and Nebraska Railroad. Presidential Appointments.

Washington, March 3d.—The President sent the following nominations to the Sensent the following nominations to the Sen-ate to-day: Thomas W. Death Sentence Commuted. WASHINGTON, March 3d.-The President has commuted the death sentence in the case of John Washington and Simmons Wolf, two Seminole Indians, to imprisonment for life. These Indians were convicted of rape on the person of a white woman in Indian Territory, and were sentenced to be hanged February 8th last. The President granted a respite until March 4th, and now has commuted the sentence. His action was based on doubt as to the guilt of the Indians.

Soldiers' Home Bill Signed. Washington, March 3d.—The President has signed the bill to establish a Soldiers' Home west of the Rocky Mountains. The new home will be located in California, with Mr. Blanding as Manager. Postoffice Appropriation Bill.

Washington, March 3d.—A secret conference on the Postoflice appropriation bill has, like the first, resulted in a disagreement on the subsidy amendment. Washington Notes .. Washington, March 3d.—The Conference Committee on the bill repealing the pre-emption, timber culture and desert land laws has failed to agree, and will so report to their respective Houses. The bill for the redemption of trade dollars, and the anti-polygamy bill, have become laws without the President's signa-ture, by reason of the expiration to-night of the constitutional limitation of ten days within which he should have returned the bills to Congress, in case of disapproval.

THE BULGARIAN REVOLT. Reported Arrest of the Commander of the Insurgents.

VIENNA, March 3d .- A report has been received here that the commander of the insurgent troops at Silistria, Bulgaria, has been arrested. The news from Silistria, however, is both meager and vague. VIENNA, March 3d.—The Bulgarian troops who have revolted at Silistria have cut the telegraph wires, delaying the trans-mission of the details of the occurrence

REVOLT AT RUSTCHUK. BUCHAREST, March 3d .- During the absence of the garrison from Rustchuk a re-volt took place there. Firing has also been heard in the direction of Gurgevo. Com-munication between Roumania and Bulgaria has been stopped. The leaders of the insurgents in Silistria have crossed the Danube and have placed in custody the Roumanian authorities. The opinion here is that the outbreak at Silistria was merely intended as a diversion to draw the troops from Rustchuk, which is the real center of the revolt. Sofia, March 3d .- The loyal troops o the Shumla garrison suppressed the revolt at Silistria. The engagement was brief, and almost bloodless. The insurgents occupy the citadel at Rustchuk, and are shelling the loyalists in the barracks.

> Change in the Attitude Toward Ireland NEW YORK, March 3d .- The Post special rom London says: There is a beginning of a very important, I may say vital, change in the political situation to-day. The Round Table conference has taken a turn more favorable than the most sanguine agined. Chamberlain is so impressed with the prospects of a Liberal reunion, that he ment in the rather critical divisions on th loture which are going on. More than this, I have very good grounds for the statement that the home rule bill proposed by Lord Salisbury, and accepted by all parties, is a contingency by no means inprobable. Salisbury's change of front, if change it is to be, will result largely from that the sea has not returned to the ordithat Ireland is virtually in a condition of anarchy. Chamberlain has long felt this and what is more important, Hartington is beginning to feel it. Home rule presents itself at this moment as the only alternative of coercion. The Queen's Jubilee Drawing Room. LONDON, March 3d .- The first Queen's jubilee drawing-room was held to-day at Buckingham Palace. Her Majesty is in the enjoyment of fine health and spirits, and took an bour's drive before the time appointed for the event. The attendance was greater than any preceding affair of the kind during the long reign of the Queen. The number of debutantes was unprecedented. The weather was fine and the crowds congregated in the parks and roadways around the Palace numbered many thousands. The Court officials say the reception was the most brilliant they

The Coronada-Leoti War in Kansas. DENVER (Col.), March 3d.—A Wallace, Kansas, special to the News says: The situation of the Coronada-Leoti war remains unchanged. Both towns are surrounded by a strong cordon of armed men, who permit no one to enter. The men in both towns sleep with their guns, and after gain-ing admission a stranger finds a Winches-ter at every turn. They stand in doorways, and merchants bring their guns to wait on customers. Men patrol the streets of the city all day and night, and the country surrounding is as excited as the towns, and about as equally divided. The Coronada sympathizers are for the post part in the town with their said to-day that within an hour 500 more could be recruited in the town ready to defend it with their lives. At Leoti the cry is for revenge. The citizens are as excited as they were on the day following the shooting, and they are unanimous in their determination to go back to Coronada at the first opportunity. THE FOOD OF MAN .- There is no doubt that man can exist on a vegetable diet. He can obtain from the plant world, digest and assimilate those materials which are needful for the repair of his own tissues. The arts concerned in the preparation of food will undoubtedly aid him in his con-version of vegetable into animal equivalents, and will supplement his powers by shortening considerably the period required for gastric digestion. Still, after all has been said, it must be allowed that the labor of the alimentary tract is better adjusted, and the formation of sound tissues more assured, by the use of a mixed diet. If, on one hand, we assert the proved value of hydrocarbons in organic combustion not mercly as heat producers, but as sources of energy, in support of our use of vegetables, we must also maintain that meat which yields us most easily the formative and stimulant protends can bardly be discardconvicted.

ILLEGITIMATE METHODS.

A public journal is perhaps never so of any section and a species of misrepresentation which inflates the value of prop erty and thereby cheats the purchaser, i in a moral sense, the difference between legitimate purchase of merchandise and larceny. Just prior to a recent sale of town lots in the new town of Ramona. near Los Angeles, some of the papers of that city, notably the Los Angeles Times, announced that the Southern Pacific Company had bought five blocks of land in the town, in advance of the sale. Accompanying the announcement of this purchase, the rumor was set on foot that the com pany intended to establish a manufactory of Pullman ears on the basis of that established by George M. Pullman, near the city of Chicago. This was first mentioned as a rumor or supposition, but the next day and the days following, the report was treated as an established fact, and the suppossed Pullman car factory was mentioned town of Ramona was referred to. Of course such a statement could not but insold, and as the statement had no foundaroad to San Diego by making a detour through the El Cajon ranch. There is no foundation for such an assurance, and the moral quality which would put forth a statement of this character, for the purpose of influencing the value of real estate, is the counterpart of that which is not the counterpart of that which is not the counterpart of that which is not through the El Cajon ranch. above swindling in any other way. In natural justice the purchasers of property at any sale where the prospectus put forth of the property to be sold is full of lying repesentations, ought to have the right to reever in an action for damages. Even beyond this, the perpetrators of frauds of this kind ought to be amenable to criminal prosecution. The difference between the nan who by fraudulent representation inreases the value of real estate which he lesires to sell and the pickpocket, is one of nethod, not of principle; and the journal ist who, for a mere pittance-the jackal's share-prostitutes his columns to give color and credence to misrepresentations of this kind, is by far the most contemptible windler of the two. THERE is no cry more persistently kept up, more worn by iteration than that of the George school of revolutionary reformers, that "the rich are growing richer and the poor poorer." Yet while thousands accept this sounding platitude as gospel truth, the fact is it has no basis of verity whatever. Wealth is better distributed to-day than ever before; labor is better paid; opportunities for advance ment and property possession are more umerous and broader, and there is really ess rigid necessary economy exacted of men than in any other era. The cry of the Socialists which we have quoted has no doubt, infected a large body of people but so has error in other forms no les vicious. The truth is as Professor Leon Levi has shown to be the fact in England. the gradations between rich and poor are disappearing. Non-possession of great activity or narrowed the circle of the class middle class, said Mr. Mallock, "is the main social feature of the century." It is not to be absorbed by the wealthy, or gravitating toward merger with the poverty stricken. The class of home-getters is larger in proportion to the whole population to-day than at any previous time. So, too, the class of men with modest incomes is vastly greater, propor ionally to all others, than ever before The conditions of life are no more exacting now than forty years ago, nor so much so while the means of supplying our wants have been wonderfully increased in number and convenience. If there are more very wealthy men now than formerly, so too, there are many more moderately rich men, and vastly more of those comfortably situated. Mr. Edward Atkinson has shown by irrefragible statistical proof that men are better paid for labor in fact to-day than at any period since the war of the

has not increased proportionally, but has rather declined. One of the favorite plans for evading the Chinese Restriction Act has been the passing off of women as wives of China men entitled to land, the women really being slaves. The Secretary of the Treasury has repaired the recent breach in some small part, by ruling that the wife, or alleged wife of a returning Chinaman, who husband. Drury and Jeff heard something of this, and last Monday went to Sonoma county, accompanied by Colonel Harding as their attorney, to see what was being done. Arriving at Dave's house they were astounded to learn that ten days prior Tom had been declared insane and sent to the Napa Asylum. Tom, it is said, resisted arrest violently, and so desperately did he rebel against the outrage that it took four men to put him in prison. Upon the testi-mony of Dave and others about the place. he was subsequently committed to the asylum. Drury Clanton immediately visited him at Napa, Colonel Harding and Joseph Craig accompanying him. They found Tom in his usual good health, except that he was suffering from an ulcer-ated tooth. He expressed himself as rationally as ever, and declared that he did not know why he had been consigned to a lunatic asylum. The officers of the asylum said they could discover no symptoms of insanity about him, and at the request of Anderson, March 3d .- A warm rain fell Drury Clanton, readily signed papers re-leasing and discharging him from the asy-Tom arrived in Woodland Wedn day evening with Colonel Harding and his two brothers, Drury and Jeff.

TWENTY-SEVENTH SESSION - SIXTIETH DAY.

SENATE.

THURSDAY, March 3d.
The Senate met at 1:30 p. m., the President in the chair.
The Committee on Irrigation reported favor ably A. B. 287 (known as the Vincent irrigation 132).

The Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds reported favorably the bill providing for certain stone walks and drives in the Capitol for certain stone walks and drives in the Capitol Park.

Murphy called attention to the alleged fact that S. B. 194, duplicating the jute plant at San Quentin, and appropriating $160,000 therefor, which passed the Senate several days ago, was not transmitted to the Assembly as directed, and moved the appointment of a committee of two to inquire into the matter.

The Chair stated that all the clerks at the desk were positive that the bill had been properly transmitted.

The motion prevailed, and the Chair appointed Messrs. Patterson and Caminetti. Messrs. Patterson and Caminetti.

The attention of the Senate being called to the fact that this was the last statutory day of the session, and that it was necessary to determine whether or not the committee clerks shall be retained, the Senate voted to retain them.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration o the special order, the Glenn county bill.

Jones objected to the bill being read the second time, and spoke at some length against its passage.

Bogse explained his position in regard to the matter. He had introduced the bill at the request of a number of his constituents, and was to that extent its author, although opposed to it from the beginning. He consumed his allotted time in arguing against its passage. He declared that the people of Colusa are opposed to a division of the county, even a large number of the residents of the proposed new county. Of the 700 and odd signers of the petition for the division nearly one-half are not tax-payers, and nearly 200 are not on the Great Register. division nearly one-half are not tax-payers, and nearly 200 are not on the Great Register.

Goucher spoke in favor of the bill, and read a number of letters written by Senator Boggs to citizens of the proposed new county, which he leimed were to be construed as declaring his (Boggs') consent to the division. The territory embraced in the proposed new county has 7,000 population and $10,000,000 of taxable property, and he thought the people of that section should be permitted to determine the matter for themselves.

Boggs, in reply, said he could satisfactorily explain his letters to any unprejudiced person. He then proceeded with his explanation, claiming that at no time was he friendly to the proposed division. He also read a dispatch from a Colusa county Supervisor at Orland, to the effect that some days before election, he (Boggs) had open'y expressed himself as against a division of the county.

Gesford referred to an attack made upon him in a Colusa county paper, except for which he would have remained silent and simply voted for the bill. He charged that the attacks upon him in the Colusa. Sun and Colusa Herald were occupies.

for the bill. He charged that the attacks upon him in the Colusa. Sun and Colusa Herald were contemptible and malicious. It was represented that he had "sold out" on this proposition, a charge that he hurled back upon its authors with unutterable scorn and contempt.

Steele opposed the bill as a matter of principle. He was simply opposed to dividing a sparsely-settled county, as it would create onerous burdens upon the people. us burdens upon the people.

Goucher again took the floor, and charged

Goucher again took the floor, and charged Senator Boggs with having used the patronage of the State Prison for the purpose of securing votes against the bill.

Boggs denied the charge, saying that positions as guardsmen had been solicited at his hands, and he had recommended persons—friends of Senators and others—without any reference having been made to votes against the bill.

Wilson spoke at some length against the division. He argued that the question should be submitted to the people of the whole county, who were all interested, financially and otherwise. The principle involved is the very one that has agitated this country for half a century—the principle that was involved in the war that has agitated this country for half a century—the principle that was involved in the war for secession, and which had brought the Goddess of Liberty in tears at the feet of the world.
Gesford replied to Wilson, denying that there was anything smacking of the "secession" idea in the proposed division of Colusa county. Hequoted from a decision of the Supreme Court showing that the rule had been in former cases of this kind that the questions at issue were properly and legally settled by the votes of the people of proposed new counties, and not by the entire original county.

Abbott said his friend from San Francisco (Wilson) was a very good fellow Republican.

Goucher changed his vote from aye to no and gave notice of a motion to reconsider.

Patterson moved to take up the motion to reconsider the vote by which the Senate passed bill No. 51, the debris dam bill.

Chandler moved to postpone the matter until 8:30 P. M. So ordered.

Moflitt introduced (out of order) two bills appropriating $1,157 to meet the salaries of members and attaches for the remainder of the term.

The Constitution was suspended, the bills read three times and passed. read three times and passed.

S. B. 271, to encourage and provide for a general vaccination, was taken up, and on motion of Murphy, the enacting clause was stricken out.

These bills were passed:

A. B. 8, relating to insurance; Λ. B. 9, authorizing corporations to act as executors and in other capacities; Λ. B. 10, relating to investment of capital stock and accumulations of insurance companies; S. B. 234, relating to the correction of the eastern boundary line of the State; S. Haynes offered a resolution declaring, as a case of urgency, S. B. 327, granting to the Government certain tide lanels in Humboldt Bay, for the purpose of constructing thereon a breakwater. The resolution was adopted, the bill read the required number of times, and passed.

After a wrangle, lasting for about an hour, over motions for adjournment, recess, etc., at 5:30 the Senate adjourned until the following morning at 10 o'clock.

The House met at 10 A. M.
S. B. 145, relative to the regulation of State Prisons, was read second time.
A. B. 129, familiarly known as the "Telegraph Hill steal," was called up. English, a San Francisco political boss. The widows and orphans, so often referred to by the advocates of the measure, were nothing more advocates of the measure, were nothing more nor less than a "sympathy racket." If the bill passed, over one-half of the money would go to professional lobbyists and retained attorneys, who were actively engaged at this time in buttonholing members. He read, from the sworn testimony of Wm. English, in which the latter testified that he, and not the State, was liable for the damage done. He appealed to the honor of the members of the House not to yote for so infamous a me sure: not to go on record as supporting so outrageous a steal; not to let their names be handed down to posterity in the printed journals of this State as having bartered away the people's money to pay the private porting so outrageous a steat; hot to let their names be handed down to posterity in the printed journals of this state as having bartered away the people's money to pay the private claims against a boss political manipulator.

Lewis made a strong appeal in favor of the passage of the bill, and stated that the property which the State would thus acquire was of lar more value than the amount which would be paid for its acquisition.

Young of San Diego said: "The great American Eagle has flown aloft, and now hovers high over the snowy peaks of the distant Sierras, and when he sha! have penetrated the vast ill mitable ethereal space, and shall have div down and lit it dad's wood pile, then shall I be led to exclaim in the grand, pathetic, oracular and sublime language of the prophet, 'This Telegraph Hill bill is a stupendous steal.'"

Pending a roil-call on the passage of the bill, Brierly moved a call of the House, which carried, and Messrs. Taylor and Carroll of Saeramento, and O'Grady of Solano were brought before the bar of the House under arrest. They apologized to the House for their neglect of duty, and were excused. The temper of the House was not of the best, one hour's time of the Legislature having been lost.

The roll was called, and the bill passed by a bare majority vote, as follows:

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

A caucus of the Democratic members of he Senate was held last evening for the purpose of taking action in the matter the Ryland-Conklin contest, which is to come before the Senate to-day. It is said that the caucus adopted a resolution bindtends to vote on the matter in the Senate Several members-whose sense of right and justice is stronger even than their parti-sanship—demurred at this, and refused to be bound by any such rule. The result was that the caucus adjourned without accomplishing anything in the direction in tended. It is understood (and was openly stated late last night) that a sufficient number of conscientious Democrats will to-day vote for the minority report to effect the retention of Dr. Conklin in the seat he now unjust and iniquitous law .- Wood and Iron. Free Trade. The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from pro-prietary medicines, no doubt has largely enefited the consumers, as well as relieve ing the burden of home manufacturers Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreci-ated by the sick and afflicted in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles, for 10 cents, remain the same size The measuring of the candle-power of light is accomplished by comparing the shadow cast by a rod in the light of a standard candle with the shadow cast by the light to be tested. By moving the latter toward or away from the rod a point will be reached at which the shadow cast by both lights will be of the same intensity. The intensity of the two lights is directly proportional to the squares of their dis ances from the shadows; i. e., suppose the light to be tested in three times the dis tance of the candle, its illuminating power is nine times as great.

of Candidates-The Platform and Resolutions.

The Democratic City Convention met in the Clunie Opera House last evening for the purpose of nominating a ticket to be voted at the municipal election, to take place in this city on Tuesday next. The delegates occupied seats in the parquet, while the dress circle and gallery were crowded with spectators. The Convention crowded with spectators. The Convention was a representative one, containing many of the first citizens of the community, was intelligent, orderly, and proceeded with a degree of decorum unusual in such bodies, and particularly so of the Democratic party.

"Is there a fatality among our prominent men?" is a question that we often ask. It is a question that perplexes our leading medical men, and they are at a loss to know how to answer it.

We sometimes think that if the physicians would give part of the energy to the consideration of this question that they give to combatting other schools of practice, it might be satisfactorily answered.

The fights of "isms" reminds us often of the quarrels of old Indian tribes, that were only happy when they were annihilating each other.

If Allopathy makes a discovery that promises good to the race, Homepathy derides it and breaks down its influence. If Homepathy makes a discovery that promises to be a boon to the race, Allopathy at tacks it.

The editor expressed surprise at the agent's faith, but the latter replied: "This point is a valuable one. Very many insurance agents all over the country, when they find a customer rejected for this cause, give similar advice, and eventually he gets the insurance."

What are we to infer from such circumstances? Have shrewd insurance men, as well as other shrewd business men, found the secret answer to the inquiry? Is it possible that our columns have been processible that our columns have bee
